INTENT

The dancefloor is an ephemeral sanctuary built on sweat, friction and desire. On a dancefloor, individual sovereignty and collective freedom can coexist; safer spaces can be built and sustained. It is a space where we can reclaim, even if briefly, our body and desire. I reject the idea of joy as resistance, but dancefloors have shown that other ways of organising and living together are possible. As a DJ, I am honoured to help build and look after them.

— ÆRIEL

BIO

ÆRIEL (They/Them - He/Him) is a non-binary, queer selector based in Santiago de Chile. Their sets cross techno, trance, EBM, house and Italo disco, changing tempo and temperature over the course of a night.

ÆRIEL lived in Paris and has spent long stretches in São Paulo and Buenos Aires, where friends, lovers and family keep pulling them back. Each city has shaped how they approach the night. Paris showed them that counterculture can be elegant, and that spontaneity and genuine creation are worth pursuing. São Paulo's vast queer underground proved that artistic excellence, eroticism and political conviction share the dancefloor and make for bombastic nights. Buenos Aires added irreverence: a punk, bohemian hunger for breaking with whatever has become the norm. ÆRIEL brings all three back to Santiago and wherever they go.

In April 2026, ÆRIEL founded Æ000.X, an invitation-only party in Santiago where they serve as conceptual lead. Æ000.X builds an intentional community around music, counterculture and desire. It is a direct response to the gentrification and commodification of techno, run on principle, care and experimentation. Each edition is curated as a whole, from the guest list to the music, and the party is the clearest picture of how ÆRIEL thinks a night should be held.

Away from the decks, they write essays, photograph nightlife on 35mm film and Polaroid, and have a boring day job.

[TECHNICAL RIDER]

PREFERRED SETUP

2× Pioneer DJ CDJ-3000 and a Pioneer DJ mixer.

MINIMUM

Any equipment that runs Rekordbox, with a Pioneer DJ DDJ-FLX4 as the minimum. If the controller needs a computer, a MacBook with an M-series chip is preferred.

SOUND SYSTEM

Hi-fi sound is always appreciated.

SOUND CHECK

ÆRIEL pays special attention to volume, clipping and bass saturation. If possible, a sound check in advance keeps the sound crisp, clear and unclipped, and keeps it from hurting the ears of those in attendance.

[BOOKING REQUIREMENTS]

HOSPITALITY

ÆRIEL does not drink alcohol. Requested: 2× Red Bull (sugar-free or Zero), 1× isotonic drink and 1× Coca-Cola Zero.
